

ABSTRACT:

This torque compensating track drive is designed to provide track drive vehicles with an undercarriage that distributes the weight of the vehicle over the greatest possible area and also 5 ensures that as much of the drive track is in contact with the surface as possible in all driving situations.